Dear Cartoon Network Comic News:

Scooby-Doo is a comic book I have waited a long time for. It has always been my favorite TV show and I have always wanted to see the first episode. I was so amazed when I found out that you made Scooby-Doo comics. I appreciate what you did and I'm going to collect every issue you ever make.

Sean Quigley,
Bryan, TX

(Glad we could oblige, Sean. And you may have given us an idea. What would you folks think of our doing that first episode in comics form?)

Dear Cartoon Network Comic News:

I'm 30-something and still enjoy comics. As you can imagine, I'm just thrilled about the new Hanna-Barbera comics out now. I am collecting Scooby-Doo (my favorite) as well as the rest of them. It is no easy task trying to locate all these comics. It's an all day search trying to get new issues. Thank you so much for bringing back some of the best! Question: I would like to send in for your Super Saver Subscription and order some back issues, but I do not want to tear the order pages out. Would a photo copy be acceptable?

Mary E. Hoffman,
Seminole, FL

(Sorry, you sometimes run into trouble locating our books, Mary. Thanks for the effort and we hope it's continually worth it. Any of you having problems like that should tell your local dealer or comic store to order them. You'd be surprised at how much they listen. And, yes indeed, a photo copy of the order form would be perfectly acceptable.)

Dear Cartoon Network Comic News:

I just finished reading Hanna-Barbera Presents #8 (Frankenstein Jr. and The Impossibles). I would just like to thank you for helping me recapture the joys of my youth. A rock group masquerading as super heroes? Uniquely wonderful concept for its time and while imitated at least twice since then, it has never been surpassed. Thanks again for the nostalgia trip.

Cary Killingbeck,
Hawinton, CT

(Thanks, Cary. All of us here were proud of that issue. Any others out there want to tell us what they thought?)

Dear Cartoon Network Comic News:

I read your comic of Frankenstein Jr. and The Impossibles and I loved it. Would you be printing any more of the Hanna-Barbera superheroes? I watch them on the Cartoon Network.

Tom Mahoney,
NYC

(Boy, what a quick response! Yes, Tom, look for Space Ghost. It's a knockout of a book!)

Dear Cartoon Network Comic News:
The H-B Presents Frankenstein Jr. and The Impossibles was EXCELLENT! Make it a series and all my friends and I will keep buying them!
Rick Goldschmidt,
Palos Hills, IL

(Wow! Who could have believed what a response I'd get when I asked that question.)

Dear Cartoon Network Comic News:
I am writing this letter to make a back issue request. I would like to know if I can directly order Hanna-Barbera Presents #7 with the return of the Wacky Races by sending you a check or money order?

Phillip O'Dell,
Houston, TX

(Phillip, you can only order those back issues that are available and advertised in each issue. Sorry but we do not keep stock on all issues. Just check each issue of your Cartoon Network favorites and see what's listed that month. That'll tell you what you can order.)

Dear Cartoon Network News:
I love your comics, especially Scooby-Doo and Wacky Races. I think it's cool that after you read the comic you can watch it on the Cartoon Network.

Alex Finney,
Brighton, MI

(Sure thing, Alex. And after you watch a cartoon on Cartoon Network you can read the comic!)

Dear Cartoon Network News:
I'm 9 years old and I love Scooby-Doo (and Scrappy and Shaggy too!). I have almost a complete collection of Scooby-Doo comics. They're so mysterious and well-drawn. You'd never guess that the people who seem to be good are actually behind everything. Keep up the good work!

Jaykie Lazarte,
Pque., MM, Philippines

(With fans like you, Jaykie, we just have to! Thanks for the compliments.)

Dear Cartoon Network News:
Scooby-Doo #14, "The Balloon Busters," was simply classic. It read like an actual episode of the TV series and that really is how this book should be structured. Book length mysteries, with or without Scrappy, make better sense than trying to do two tales and having to rush the climaxes to each.

Jacob Gilbert,
Troy, NY

(Thanks again, Jacob. We always get interesting and insightful comments from you. What do the rest of you think? Do you prefer two stories or one long one?)

Dear Cartoon Network Comic News:
Just dropping a note to say thanks for "A Pup Named Scooby-Doo." It was so close to the actual cartoon, I thought I was hearing the background music and sound effects!

Steve Wann,
Baltimore, MD

(What a nice way of putting it, Steve. Thanks so much to all of you and the wonderful comments you gave us this month!)
